§1. COURSE DESCRIPTION

In this course, students will build upon and advance their knowledge and skills learned from Beginning Greek 1–2. Students will move past the basic components of Greek grammar, morphology, and parsing and will focus more on peculiar uses of cases, verbs, and other parts of speech. Additionally, students will learn the basic elements of sentence diagramming as well as tracing the argument of a passage (via arcing and phrasing).

§2. COURSE OBJECTIVES

By the end of this course, students should:

- Understand particular uses of certain cases and verbs and other parts of speech
- Be able to diagram sentences in Greek
- Be able to trace the flow of argument in a passage on account of the Greek grammar
- Grow in the ability to exegete a passage by attending to its grammatical-historical elements as well as theological content
- Grow in the Christian virtues of faith, hope, and love
- Know how Christian doctrines fuel and shape the Christian life within the church
- Grow in and spread a passion for the supremacy of God in all things through Jesus Christ

§3. COURSE READINGS

The following books listed below will not be provided by the professor. Students are required to gain access to the following works—whether buy, borrow, or scan them.

3.1 Required Resources

- Köstenberger, Andreas J. Et. al. Going Deeper with New Testament Greek: An Intermediate Study of the Grammar and Syntax of the New Testament. Revised Edition. Nashville, TN: B&H Academic, 2020. (Amazon Link)

- Biblearc Tools. You will need to purchase either a monthly or an annual subscription to Biblearc Tools. Given that you will need this for this course and for your exegesis course next semester, I suggest getting the annual subscription if you can afford it.

3.2 Recommended Reading

- Wallace, Daniel B. Greek Grammar Beyond the Basics: An Exegetical Syntax of the New Testament. 3rd edition. Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 1996.
- Huffman, Douglas S. The Handy Guide to New Testament Greek: Grammar, Syntax, and Diagramming. Grand Rapids: Kregel, 2012.
- IMPORTANT: I suggest that you buy these two below on Logos.
 - Aland, Kurt et al. Novum Testamentum Graece. 28th Edition. Stuttgart: Deutsche Bibelgesellschaft, 2012.
 - Danker, Frederick William and Walter Bauer. Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament and Other Early Christian Literature. BDAG. 3rd edition. Chicago, IL: University of Chicago Press, 2000.

§4. COURSE APPROACH AND PEDAGOGY

This course will include lecture, class discussion, and further “practice” in Greek. Students are required to come to class prepared—i.e., having read the required reading, completed practice exercises, etc.—so that we can mainly put into practice what you have studied in class.

§5. COURSE REQUIREMENTS AND GRADING

Students will be evaluated according to the following requirements:

Reading:	20%
Participation:	5%
Greek Translations	10%
Sentence Diagrams:	10%
Quizzes:	20%
Midterm Exam:	15%
Final Exam:	20%

5.1 Reading (20%) — Students are required to complete assigned readings before class in order to receive credit for respective readings. This is 20% of your final grade for this course—I highly recommend that students prioritize completing the reading(s) as this will have a very significant impact on your overall grade and your understanding of Greek.

5.2 Participation (5%) — Students will be graded on active participation in class. “Active participation” does not refer only to the amount of talking in class—one can speak excessively in class and such would not guarantee a high grade; rather, “active participation” primarily refers to the quality of questions and comments from students as well as attentive listening. Students are allowed to have one (1) excused absence permitted by the professor during the semester before the class in which the student is absent. All other absences will result in a 10pt deduction of your participation grade.

5.3 Greek Translations (10%) — Students must spend at least one hour translating and exegeting the Greek Exercise.

5.4 Sentence Diagrams (10%) — Students will translate and sentence diagram John 1:1–18. Students must upload their Translation & Diagram before class begins to receive credit.

5.5 Quizzes (20%) — Students will have quizzes throughout this course. The quizzes will be based on anything in the chapter they read and their translation & diagram of John 1:1–18.

5.6 Exams (35%) — Students will have two exams during the semester: a mid-term and final exam. Exams will include: vocabulary, translation, parsing, and classification/categorization of parts of speech. The midterm will be based only off the first half of the course while the final exam will be based off of the entire course. The midterm will be 15% of your final grade; the final will be 20% of your grade.

§6. GRADING SCALE

The following scale will be used for final grades:

	B+ 89–87	C+ 79–77	D+ 69–67
A 100–94	B 86–84	C 76–74	D 66–64	F 59–0
A– 93–90	B– 83–80	C– 73–70	D– 63–60

§7. COURSE PROTOCOLS & STANDARDS

Assignment Expectations

Students will turn in a completed PDF to the professor via Populi. Papers will be written according to standards found in the SBL Handbook of Style, 2nd ed.

Late Work

I have a NO late work policy. No work will be accepted if it is turned in late—past the due time—unless extreme circumstances bar you from turning it in on time.

Academic Honesty

Oahu Theological Seminary is committed to personal integrity and honesty. All instances of dishonesty or distorting the truth to avoid negative academic or social consequences are grounds for a disciplinary response. Therefore, a policy has been established in the event of cheating or plagiarism.

Cheating

Students cheating in course work or examinations are subject to discipline. Cheating includes copying another student's work and presenting it as one's own (or allowing another person to copy one's own work) and using dishonest or prohibited methods to complete a test (or helping another person to cheat). Students who cheat will be subject to significant academic consequences including an immediate failing grade for the course. An offending student may also be put on disciplinary probation. For more details, please refer to the Student Handbook.

Plagiarism

Students found plagiarizing are subject to discipline. The most common errors in handling written sources are the following:

- failure to use quotation marks when quoting,
- failure to make a thorough paraphrase when attempting to put the idea in one's own words,
- failure to credit the source of the information

Students who are discovered to have plagiarized are subject to an immediate F for the course and possible disciplinary probation.

Special Needs

Any student who may require an accommodation under the provisions of the Americans with Disabilities Act should contact the course instructor in this matter as soon as possible and no later than the end of the first week of classes. Special needs must be documented with OTS personnel.

Syllabus Revision

The professor retains the right to revise the syllabus at anytime.
